2 ——— TECHNICAL INSPECTION

Before any Ferrari can be declared Approved, it must first pass a series of extremely rigorous technical checks and controls drawn up by the Factory. This complete and detailed Ferrari-approved inspection is carried out by factory-trained technicians who specialize in evaluating Ferraris of all types.

The inspection involves no less than 101 different checks covering everything from the running gear to the electrical systems, bodywork and interior. It concludes with a test drive by a factory trained technician.

Any issues that emerge will be repaired using only genuine Ferrari parts.

Once a car has passed the technical inspection, a written evaluation is drawn up and will be presented to any potential new owner.

A FERRARI APPROVED TECHNICAL INSPECTION INCLUDES:

- Running gear function tests
- Electrical system function tests
- Check of fluid levels
- Examination of suspension, brakes, cooling system and steering system
- Secondary controls of air conditioner, instrumentation and safety systems
- Lights, wheel and tire (tread depth and pressure) function tests

101 individual points are inspected

3 ——— PROVENANCE & PREPARATION

At the end of each inspection, a detailed list of the checks and repairs carried out will be placed in the glove compartment.

In addition, where available, the car undergoes an independent title inspection check to examine mileage, ownership history, and identify any outstanding liens.

4 ——— WARRANTY & ASSISTANCE

A Ferrari Approved has the advantage of a Ferrari warranty for up to 24 months in Europe, US, Middle East & China and 12 months in the rest of the world. This warranty covers the cost of numerous spare parts and cost of work of the principal repair works.

Excluded are parts included in ordinary assistance, such as tyres, brake pads and disks, or parts, which have to be exchanged due to normal wear. A Ferrari Approved has an unlimited mileage warranty of two years. The warranty covers the costs of defects and reparations, including spare parts and repair works. Furthermore it is guaranteed that works will be carried out by Ferrari technicians exclusively using original spare parts.
